Maryland 19th in Sears Directors' Cup

In final standings released by the National Association of Collegiate Directors of Athletics (NACDA), the Terrapins' program was ranked tied for 19th out of 306 Division I schools last year. It is the highest finish for the Terps since the rankings began five years ago, and Maryland's 38-position jump from the No. 57 spot in 1994-95 is the greatest in that time by a school not previously ranked in the Top 25.

The 1998 season marks the 25th in which field hockey has been a varsity sport under the auspices of the University of Maryland Department of Intercollegiate Athletics. Prior to 1974, field hockey was overseen by the Women's Recreational Association

The Rules of Field Hockey

The Basics

1. A game consists of two halves, 35 minutes each. Should the game be tied after both halves, up to two 15-minute sudden-death overtime periods will be played. Should the game remain tied, a series of penalty strokes will determine the winner. In overtime, the teams are reduced to seven players per side.
2. A goal is scored when a players strikes the ball into the opponent's goal from within the shooting circle, which is 16 yards from the goal. Any goal scored from outside the shooting circle will be disallowed.
3. Goalies must be inside the shooting circle to use their feet or bodies.
4. The sticks used by all players have a flat surface on the left-hand side and a round surface on the right-hand side. Players may only hit the ball with the flat side of the stick.
5. Players may not stand still to shield the ball using their body.

Fouls are Called on a Player Who:

1. Trips an opposing player.
2. Shoves or charges an opponent while trying to play the ball.
3. Hits the ball with the wrong side of the stick.
4. Obstructs an opponent with their body or their stick.
5. Interferes in the game without a stick.
6. Uses their body to stop the ball.
7. Uses their foot or leg to support their stick in order to resist an opponent.
8. Picks up, kicks or throws the ball.
9. Hits, hooks, holds or interferes with an opponent's stick.

Free Hits

When a foul is called, the non-offending team is awarded a free hit. The free hit is taken from the spot at which the foul occurred. All other players must be at least five yards away from the player taking the free hit.

Penalty Corners

1. A penalty corner is awarded against defenders who commit a foul in the shooting circle, commit a deliberate foul from within 25 yards of the goal or deliberately play the ball over the back line.
2. The non-offending team may push the ball in from the back line, at least 10 yards away from the goal. All other non-offending players must be outside the shooting circle.
3. A maximum of five defenders may be behind the goal line while the remaining defenders must remain behind the center line before the push-out is taken.

A penalty corner

Penalty Strokes

1. A penalty stroke is awarded for any intentional foul by a defender within the shooting circle or for any unintentional foul which prevents a sure goal.
2. A one-on-one sequence between a shooter and the opposing goalkeeper.
3. The shooter is allowed one step forward while taking the push or flick.

16-yard hits

When a team plays a ball over the opponent's backline, the defensive team receives a free hit, which is taken from their own 16-yard line.

Hit-ins

When a player hits the ball out of bounds, the opposing team is awarded a hit-in from the spot the ball went out of bounds. All other players and their sticks must be at least five yards away from the sideline the free-hit is being taken from.

Substitutions

Unlimited. Only two players on one team, however, may enter the game at the same time.

Card Reprimands

Used to warn players of bad behavior or dangerous play. Green-caution. Yellow-five minute suspension. Red-ejection.

University of Maryland

Excellence In Education

There is no better place to be than the University of Maryland. As Washingtonian magazine noted in its December, 1997 issue, "...kids are turning down schools like Princeton and Virginia to go to College Park." With its top-ranked academic programs, nationally recognized faculty, diverse population and lush 1,580-acre campus located between Washington, D.C. and Baltimore, Md., it's no wonder the University of Maryland is a sought-after destination for some of the state's — and the country's — best and brightest students.

Attracting them are more than 100 majors and some of the highest-ranked programs in the country. For instance, in the 1998 U.S. News and World Report rankings of graduate schools, the Clark School of Engineering was ranked 13th in the nation, the School of Public Affairs was ranked 27th, and also was named one of the country's 25 best business schools for entrepreneurs by Success magazine. And, the university's School of Music was ranked 30th in the country in the first U.S. News and World Report reputational survey of arts programs since 1994.

The reputation of the School of Music promises to grow when the Maryland Center for the Performing Arts opens in 2000. With a 1,200-seat concert hall, a 300-seat recital hall, a 650-seat proscenium theater, a 200-seat dance studio and a 200-seat experimental theater with state-of-the-art lighting, acoustics and theatrical design elements, it will be an ideal home for university-based performing arts programs.

For exceptional students seeking an exceptional education at the University of Maryland, College Park, there are a number of programs designed to enrich the learning experience. Among them are the Honors Program, ranked among the nine best in the country by Ivy League Programs at State School Prices; College Park Scholars, which encourages students who share common intellectual interests to live and study together in 10 specialty areas; and the Gemstone Program, which links student teams from engineering, the humanities, business and the physical sciences in a four-year research project.

Supporting the research needs of students and faculty are some of the country's best research facilities. In 1994, the largest, most technically advanced research archives in the world — National Archives II — moved to College Park. In addition, just outside of College Park are the Library of Congress, the Smithsonian Institution and the National Libraries of Agriculture and Medicine, among others. The university itself has the most comprehensive library system in the area.

The University of Maryland, College Park, as the flagship campus of the state higher education system, is a vital part of Maryland's current prosperity and its vision for the future. For students here, the state offers a bounteous extension of the campus' own wealth of opportunity.

High tech, engineering and service industries thrive in proximity to the campus, offering a wide spectrum of internship and work-study opportunities that only a major metropolitan area can provide. The Kennedy Center alone houses the National Symphony Orchestra, five performance stages, an opera company, and the American Film Institute. In Baltimore, one of the great ports of the world, the Inner Harbor has become a cultural magnet for thousands of tourists each year, offering the National Aquarium, the Maryland Science Center, and other attractions.

Whether your focus is the sciences or the humanities, a small town atmosphere or a metropolitan feel, the University of Maryland, College Park offers a wide range of educational and cultural opportunities. There is no better place to be than the University of Maryland, College Park.

Dr. C. D. Mote, Jr., University President

Dr. Dan Mote was appointed 27th president of the University of Maryland June 2, 1998. He comes to Maryland from the University of California, Berkeley, where he was Vice Chancellor of University Relations, President of the UC Berkeley Foundation, and held an endowed chair in Mechanical Systems.

"The Regents could not be more pleased with this appointment," said Lance Billingsley, chairman of the University System of Maryland Board of Regents. "Dr. Mote brings to the University of Maryland the national stature, record of accomplishment, and leadership abilities to build on [former university president] Brit Kirwan's legacy and to propel this institution into the top tier of American research universities. A man of impeccable credentials, he is widely recognized for his ability to form strategic alliances between the academy and the community. I can think of no one better to take over the helm of our flagship university."

Mote, 61, was named to the vice chancellor's position and foundation presidency at California in 1991. In those capacities, he has been responsible for working with the university's external constituencies through a variety of programs, including fund raising, government relations, publications and public information. In 1992 he launched a comprehensive, campus-wide campaign to raise $1.1 billion in private support by the year 2000.

From 1987 to 1991, Mote served as chair of Berkeley's Department of Mechanical Engineering, leading the department to its No. 1 ranking in the National Research Council review of graduate program effectiveness. He came to Berkeley in 1967 after three years on the faculty of Carnegie Institute of Technology. He has held research positions at the University of Birmingham (England), the Norwegian Institute for Wood Science and Technology, the Technical University of Darmstadt, and the Tokyo Institute of Technology.

His technical expertise is in the areas of dynamic systems, instrumentation, vibration, and biomechanics. He is internationally recognized for his research on gyroscopic systems and also the biomechanics of skiing injury. His research work has yielded 300 publications as well as patents in the U.S., Norway, Finland and Sweden.

He is a registered professional engineer in California and has served professional societies in a number of capacities. He was Vice President of the American Society of Mechanical Engineers (Environment and Transportation Group) from 1986-90 and Vice Chairman of the ASME Council on Engineering in 1989-90. He was the founding chair of the ASME Noise Control and Acoustics Division and served from its inception in 1979 until 1983.

Among his numerous honors, Mote has received research fellowships from the National Science Foundation and from the Royal Norwegian Council for Scientific and Industrial Research. In 1971 the University of California, Berkeley gave him its Distinguished Teacher Award. In 1988 he was elected to the National Academy of Engineering in the U.S. and was awarded the Humboldt Prize by the Federal Republic of Germany. In 1997 Mote was chosen Honorary Member of the American Society of Mechanical Engineers, the highest award bestowed by this society, for exemplary accomplishments in the course of his career.

Mote holds B.S. and M.S. degrees in mechanical engineering and a Ph.D. in engineering mechanics, all from the University of California, Berkeley.

Maryland

Terrapins

Among the Nation's Best

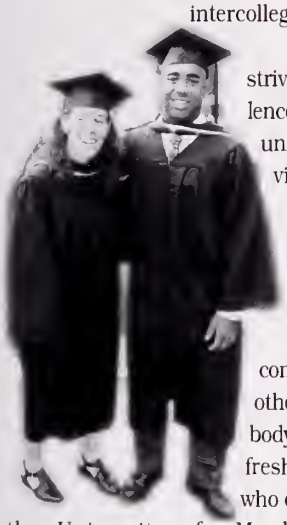
This is Maryland Athletics

At the University of Maryland, winning is not taken lightly. Like the rich history of all its sports programs, championships are a tradition.

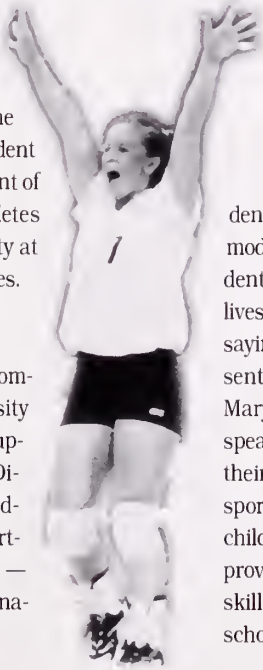
Since the 1950s, Maryland has established itself as one of the most successful athletic programs in the nation. This type of success is no accident; it has been built year-by-year on the achievements of outstanding young men and women who were given the opportunity to excel both on and off the field of play. The victories, the championships and the national acclaim are all ingredients of the Maryland athletic program. Student-athletes who attend Maryland are part of a program and a university which thrive on tradition and excellence.

Academic Excellence

The University of Maryland considers intercollegiate athletics an integral part of the collegiate experience. Its existence provides an opportunity for students, faculty, alumni and students to share in the life of intercollegiate athletics.



The Department of Intercollegiate Athletics strives to achieve the same standards of excellence in its athletic program as exist within the university's teaching, research and public service programs. The department embraces the concept that the student-athlete is first and foremost a student, possessing academic abilities, personal interests and ambitions comparable to those of the other members of the student body. Since 1983, 88 percent of freshmen scholarship athletes who completed their eligibility at the University of Maryland earned their degrees.



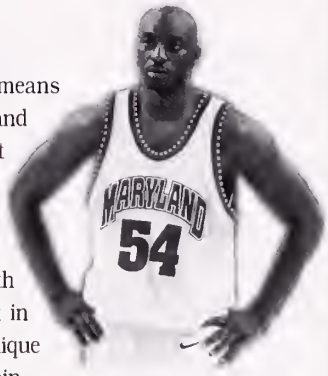
Goals

The great thing about being a Terrapin is the commitment to hard work and dedication. At the University of Maryland, the athletic department is dedicated to supporting a well-balanced Division I program. Athletic Director Deborah A. Yow and her dedicated coaches, administrators and staff have re-engineered the department into a responsive and financially sound model — with a clear vision and a determined drive toward national prominence.

Athletic Success

National championships, conference championships, national rankings and postseason play are all a part of the University of Maryland experience. The University of Maryland has established itself as one of the nation's elite athletic programs. The Terrapins have won 13 national championships, including a record four consecutive by the women's lacrosse team. The Terrapins had plenty of reason to celebrate when it came to intercollegiate athletics in 1997-98, as they posted their highest finish ever (No. 19) in the national Sears Directors' Cup all-sports ranking. Its 38-position jump from the No. 57 spot in 1994-95 is the greatest in that time by a school not previously ranked in the top 25.

Competition



Wearing the Maryland uniform means playing in front of some of the loudest and most supportive fans in the nation. It means playing against the best teams in the country, in the most prestigious conference in the country, the ACC. It means wearing the school colors with pride. It means doing your best in athletics and academics. It is a unique and special feeling being a Terrapin.

Athletes in the Community

From the media spotlight to the community spotlight, Terrapin student-athletes strengthen the ties of the local community by serving as role models. Community service is a key part of the Terrapins' agenda. Student-athletes support many community programs which help to enrich the lives of Maryland youth while teaching the importance of studying hard and saying "no" to drugs and alcohol. Representatives from the University of Maryland athletic department speak to participants and use their image and the appeal of sports to encourage Maryland children to stay in school, improve their reading and writing skills, and to receive their high school diplomas.

Deborah A. Yow, Director of Athletics

The University of Maryland athletic department has made remarkable progress under the leadership of Deborah A. Yow over the past four years. Budgets are now balanced and the inherited operating debt of almost $7 million has been paid in full. There is a spirit of excitement and pride at Maryland and the department has a clear vision for its future.

In her inspiring first meeting with the staff, shortly after she was named A.D. in the summer of 1994, she challenged the Terrapin athletic department to "raise our sights and sharpen our tools...to work hard and work smart...to recognize that our only limitations are those which we place upon ourselves."

Yow has rallied the department toward the achievement of five strategic goals:

1) Generate significantly higher revenues with increased corporate sponsorships, aggressive marketing and more effective fund-raising;

2) Boost the graduation rate of Terrapin athletes to a level equal to the general student body;

3) Raise the level of competitive achievement nationally and in the Atlantic Coast Conference, while carefully complying with ACC and NCAA rules;

4) Develop a streamlined, highly efficient athletics organization;

5) Provide outstanding customer service.

In achieving most of these goals over her first four years as athletic director, Yow and her dedicated coaches, administrators and staff have re-engineered the department from a debt-ridden, under-achieving organization to a responsive and financially sound model — with a clear vision and a determined drive toward national prominence. Maryland now ranks in the top 10 percent of all NCAA Division I programs competitively across all sports, is competing effectively in the ACC, and set an enviable record of 154 All-ACC academic honor roll student-athletes. Corporate sponsorship revenues are up 265 percent and annual fund-raising for scholarships has increased 60 percent. Maryland is a remarkably improved athletic program.

In 1997, Yow formed the employee "Committee on Quality in the Workplace" to recommend initiatives to improve working conditions and to design programs to recognize the value of athletic department employees. This has proved to be a wonderful tool in recognizing the worth of the university's outstanding employees across the department. There is a compelling sense that the Terrapin athletic department is a family, with a common goal and a shared purpose.

Maryland's athletic director recently observed, "We have the finest coaches, support staff, and administrative team in America. It is because of their courage, hard work, and cooperation that we now have a strong, viable athletic program. I am immensely proud of each of them. I am equally proud of our Terrapin fans who buy tickets and our Terrapin Club members who faithfully support the Maryland athletic program with their donations for scholarships, and the Maryland Educational Foundation and M Club members who serve and give liberally. We have a great Terrapin family. That's the foundation for all our successes...and the basis for our bright future."

Regarding the many achievements of the Terrapin athletic program, Yow says, "We are pleased, but we are not satisfied...our vision is to be one of the top 10 programs in the nation consistently...we see no reason to settle for less." Yow, who is a member of the NCAA Management Council and other prestigious national groups, is known for her goal-oriented and proactive management style. She consistently inspires and expects maximum effort from herself and those around her. Her words set the tone for everyone in athletics: "Winning isn't everything, but the will to win is." She points out that this applies in the classroom, on the field of competition, and in life.

A former basketball coach, Yow was the first male or female at the Division I level to lead three schools (Kentucky, Oral Roberts, Florida) to their first-ever appearances in the national Top 25. Her previous significant administrative experience came at the University of Florida and the University of North Carolina-Greensboro and as a pioneer female athletic director at Saint Louis University (1990-94).

The Maryland athletic department staff is working as a focused, talented and determined team under the dynamic leadership of Dr. Deborah A. Yow and is realizing steady and remarkable progress across all areas, with the best yet to come.

With a clear vision and with high aspirations for Maryland athletics, the Terps prepare to enter the new century on a dramatic upward thrust. The athletics staff embraces this prospect, with gratitude for its successes and with renewed determination to further enhance the program's national stature. It has the skill and determined leadership to reach its lofty goals, as a part of this great university. And it will.

Yow Elected 2nd VP of NACDA

Deborah A. Yow was elected second vice president of the National Association of Collegiate Directors of Athletics this past June and is scheduled to assume the organization's presidency in July 2000. Her term as second vice-president began July 1. Now in its 33rd year, NACDA serves as the professional and educational association for more than 5,100 college athletic directors, associates, assistants and conference commissioners at more than 1,600 institutions throughout the United States, Canada and Mexico. Academic Support & Career Development

The University of Maryland considers intercollegiate athletics an integral part of the collegiate experience. Its existence provides an opportunity for students, faculty, alumni and students to share in the life of intercollegiate athletics.

The Department of Intercollegiate Athletics strives to achieve the same standards of excellence in its athletics program as exist within the university's teaching, research and public service programs. The department embraces the concept that the student-athlete is first and foremost a student, possessing academic abilities, personal interests and ambitions comparable to those of the other members of the student body.

The mission of the Academic Support and Career Development Unit, headed by assistant athletic director Demetrius Marlowe, is to provide quality developmental programs and need-based services that will enhance the academic progress, facilitate the career development, and encourage the psychosocial growth of every student-athlete.

MAPS Directory

This directory, produced annually by the Department of Intercollegiate Athletics, is intended to assist graduating Terrapin student-athletes as they begin their professional careers. Distributed to more than 1,000 corporations and businesses around the region, prospective employers are introduced to our graduating student-athletes with a photograph and resume information relative to academic, career and personal achievements.

Terp Choices

Terp Choices is a program designed to guide student-athletes by orienting, supporting and increasing awareness of the relevant issues pertaining to student-athletes in today's world. The focus of the program is making personal choices and how they may affect an entire team, not just a single individual. Education and interactive workshops are presented to the athletic team and are led by student educators.

Career Information Fairs

Career Awareness in Academic Support is expanding to include a variety of programs which will be offered for student-athletes throughout the semester. Career awareness will be an ongoing process and will include assistance with resume writing and interview skills. The end of the semester will bring a career awareness fair which will host a number of professionals with whom student-athletes can learn about career interests and planning. Unlike typical "job fairs," the purpose of this program is to allow student-athletes to explore multiple career opportunities by speaking directly to individuals in their chosen area of interest.

Team Maryland

Team Maryland is a class taught in conjunction with the campus' Center for Political Leadership in which student-athletes are exposed to leadership and public speaking skills and techniques. The program consists of a group of volunteer student-athletes who learn about the challenges for children in the community by speaking to different elementary schools about drug abuse and the importance of education.

In conjunction with the campus' Center for Political Leadership, participants are taught leadership skills and public speaking techniques to use in their school-based presentation. In addition to school visits, Team Maryland has hosted visits from local schools to our campus.

Field Hockey Team Honored for Academic Excellence

The Terrapins' 1997 field hockey team was honored by University of Maryland Athletic Department after achieving the highest collective grade point average of any varsity team (3.12). The team was awarded the President's Cup by Athletic Director Deborah A. Yow and former University President William E. Kirwan.

The Terps also had seven players named to the National Field Hockey Coaches Association (NFHCA) academic team at the conclusion of the 1997 season. The Terps had the second most players named to the team; only Ball State had more with 12.

The players honored, all of whom maintained at least a 3.3 GPA, were: Christine DeBow, Alana Eliwatt, Carolyn Schwarz, Ellen Wolf, Kasey Heiser, Emily Ward and Zoe Ehrlich.

1998 Season Outlook

Terps Aim to Make Silver Anniversary Season a Memorable One

With two returning All-Americans and a talented group of newcomers, the University of Maryland field hockey team is determined to continue its tradition of field hockey excellence, which has spanned the last quarter century.

"With the level and experience of play in our top returners coupled with our newcomers, we will continue to build upon the successful tradition Maryland has established over the past 24 years," said head coach Missy Meharg.

Senior defender Jen Pratt and sophomore attackers Carla Tagliente and Keli Smith are the Terps' top returning players. Pratt was a second team All-American last season while Tagliente was named the Atlantic Coast Conference (ACC) Rookie of the Year and third team All-America and Smith was a second-team Mid-Atlantic Region All-American.

Pratt led the nation last season with 33 assists and holds the school record for career assists (53). This season, her senior leadership and understanding of the game will be an asset in developing the younger players on the team.

"Jen possesses an uncanny presence on the field which enables her to be our field general," said Meharg. "She has incredible stick skills and vision and her competitiveness is unmatched."

Tagliente is the Terps' top returning scorer, having tallied 19 goals in her first season at the collegiate level. She also has gained two years of international experience as a member of the U.S. National Team. This year, she will make the transition from center-forward to attacking-midfielder because of what Meharg cites as her "exceptional vision of the field and passing skills."

"Carla has gained a great knowledge and awareness of the game through her international experience," said Meharg. "She is a pleasure to coach and will be productive with this young team's tactical goals."

Smith scored seven goals and tallied three assists in her first season at Maryland. Over the summer, she competed on the U.S. Under-23 team. This season, she takes over the center-forward position.

Jen Pratt will head up the Terps' defensive corps.

Carla Tagliente, last year's ACC Rookie of the Year.

"Keli is a fighter," said Meharg. "Her work ethic and aggressiveness are her trademarks. As the center-forward, her energies will be contagious throughout the team."

Joining Smith on the forward line will be senior Kasey Heiser and freshmen Dina Rizzo. Heiser had a good spring and is ready to challenge for a starting position. Rizzo was a high school All-American last season and is considered one of the top players ever to come out of the state of Massachusetts. In addition, junior Emily Ward and true freshman Kateri Simon figure to gain playing time.

On the midfield line, Tagliente will be joined by senior Ellen Wolf, and freshmen Caroline Walter, Carol Senkler, Megan Kelly and Cortney Emshwiller make up a strong group of newcomers at this position.

In the backfield Pratt will be joined by sophomores Molly Kauffman, Lindsay Gorewitz and Sarah Rappolt, all of whom saw playing time last season. Freshmen Autumn Welsh, another high school All-American last season, and Carli Harris, sophomore Rachel Hiskins and redshirt freshman Kristy Palchinsky also figure to see playing time.

In goal, sophomore Zoe Ehrlich is the most experienced Terp. Angela Platt is the newcomer at this position.

The Terps' schedule this season is once again highlighted by the challenge of competing in the Atlantic Coast Conference, one of the toughest field hockey conferences in the nation. In addition, Maryland plays back-to-back games against Michigan and Michigan State early in the season. Furthermore, the Terps also compete against Massachusetts, Old Dominion, James Madison and Princeton, all of whom competed in last season's NCAA Tournament.

In the end, the blend of top-notch returners and promising newcomers should make the Terrapins' silver anniversary season an exciting one.

"The commitment of this team to elite-level play over the summer could enable the Terps to be the surprise team in NCAA Division I this year," said Meharg. "One might say that we are rebuilding, but in reality, we are reloading."

Missy Meharg, Head Coach

11th Season at Maryland • Delaware, 1985

Head coach Missy Meharg begins her 11th year at the helm of the Maryland field hockey program.

With 148 victories at Maryland, she is just five wins short of surpassing Sue Tyler as the all-time winningest coach in school history. During her first 10 years, she has established herself as one of the top coaches in the nation. At the same time, the Terps have been a perennial force on the national scene.

In her 10 previous seasons, Meharg has attained a sparkling record of 148-61-9. She has led the Terps into the NCAA Tournament eight times and during her tenure Maryland has consistently been ranked in the top 10

Without question, the highlight of Meharg's tenure came in 1993, when the Terps won the national championship. In addition, Meharg's Terps also finished second in 1995 and third in 1991.

Meharg's success has not gone unnoticed. In 1991 and 1993, she was named the NCAA Coach of the Year. The Atlantic Coast Conference voted her as the top ACC coach in both 1992 and 1995. In addition, she has been voted the Mid-Atlantic Region Coach of the Year five times.

The field hockey program Meharg runs is a testament to her emphasis on hard work, both on the field and in the classroom. She has had 30 All-America selections and 51 Academic All-America selections during her 10 years as head coach. Furthermore, last year's field hockey team won the President's Cup, which is awarded to the Maryland varsity team with the highest collective GPA (3.12).

During her years at Maryland, Meharg has coached several players who have competed on the international level. Eight Terps have gone on to play on the U.S. National Team, two players have made the U.S. Under-23 team, 10 players have played on the U.S. Under-21 team and three players have competed on the U.S. Under-19 team. This summer alone, five current Terps (Keli Smith, Carla Tagliente, Molly Kauffman, Dina Rizzo and Autumn Welsh) competed on the international level. In addition, former Terps Christine DeBow, Kate Kauffman and Carolyn Schwarz, all of whom played for Meharg, were on the U.S. World Cup team this past summer.

While she has maintained a top-notch program at Maryland, Meharg has also been a prominent coach on the international scene. She was an assistant coach on the U.S. National Team from 1994-97. During that time span, the U.S. competed in the 1994 World Cup (held in Dublin, Ireland), the 1995 Pan American Games (Mar del Plata, Argentina), the 1996 Olympics (Atlanta, Georgia) and the 1997 Champions Trophy Tournament (Berlin, Germany). Meharg was also the head coach of the United States Under-21 team in 1995.

Meharg's playing career was as prolific as her coaching career. She was a two-time All-America forward at the University of Delaware, where she played from 1981-84. In her senior season, Meharg was a Broderick Award nominee, an annual honor given to the most outstanding college player of the year. She was also a two-time All-American in lacrosse. Meharg graduated from Delaware in 1985 with a degree in health and physical education. This coming October, she will become just the second Delaware field hockey player inducted in the school's hall of fame.

From 1985-91, Meharg had a prolific seven-year career with the U.S. National team. During the time, she was a member of the 1986 World Cup team (held in Amsterdam, Holland), an alternate to the 1987 Pan American team (Indianapolis, Indiana) and an alternate to the 1988 Olympic team (Seoul, South Korea). She capped off her playing career as a member of the 1991 Pan American team (Havana, Cuba) and the Olympic Qualifying Tournament team (Aukland, New Zealand). During her post-college career, Meharg also continued her education. She earned her master's degree in sports psychology from the University of Maryland in 1989.

Over the years, Meharg has been extensively involved with the teaching of the U.S. Field Hockey Association Coaching Certification Program. She has also completed two certification programs, entitled "Olympic Solidarity" and "Preliminary Coaching Course," which are directed by the Federation of International Hockey (F.I.H.) On the side, Meharg enjoys doing color commentary work for a variety of sports, but most notably field hockey.

Coaching Staff

Andrea Bradley
Assistant Coach

Andrea Bradley begins her second year as a full-time assistant coach at Maryland. In addition to being the top assistant, she works specifically with the team's goalies.

Prior to arriving at Maryland, Bradley was an assistant coach at Iowa for two years (1995-96). Before her tenure at Iowa, she was the head coach at Goucher College from 1991-94. In her four years at the helm, Bradley led the squad to a 37-18-2 record. She was named the South Region Coach of the Year in 1992 and led Goucher to its first ever NCAA Tournament appearance in 1994.

Bradley was the starting goalie for the University of Delaware from 1984-87. During her freshman season, she was a teammate of Maryland head coach Missy Meharg.

After earning her bachelor's degree in physical education from Delaware in 1988, Bradley went on to earn her master's degree in exercise physiology from Northern Illinois in 1991.

Currently, Bradley is an assistant coach on the U.S. Under-16 team. She is an instructor for the USFHA Level One coaching certification program. In addition, she is the regional coaching and administrative director for the USFHA Future's program in the Chesapeake region.
